Re: United States v. Derrick Williams
Case No. 2:94-CR-00462
BOP Inmate No. 48426-066

To Whom it may concern

I am writing this letter, out of deep concern as to why, and under whose orders and authority for which I am not currently serving my Federal Probation. Which I am suppose to be currently serving after the completion of my Federal Prison confinement which ended on 11/10/15.

The Bureau of Prisons ordered the Honorable Jay C Waldman sentence (now under Berle M. Schiller) to run concurrent with the original state sentence under the Pennsylvania Board of Probation, and Parole (see enclosed the Boards Warrant to Commit and detain dated September 15, 1994) for which I was under primary jurisdiction of the State serving, which expired on August 7, 1996, by way of the Nunc Pro Tunc designation under 3629 (b).

Somehow an error was committed because the Nunc Pro Tunc designation order was not respected by Parole Board or the Department of Corrections nor the federal Probation Department. This error has caused me to be illegally detain, and my federal sentence ordered by Judge Waldman, to not be faithfully carried out. The sentence that Judge Waldman handed down was not ordered to be served in installments, after my release from my federal confinement, I was ordered to serve 5 years of supervised probation after my confinement time for which I should now be serving.

My question is who is responsible for the interruption of Judge Waldman sentence in installments, and who is responsible for this current error of my being illegally detained? Why am I not under primary jurisdiction of Judge Waldman's sentence and is my federal probation time running? The Nunc Pro Tunc issued under 3621(b) is an order that should be respected and carried out like any other order.

The BOP released me to a detainer and refused to check into the matter or make an attempt to correct it, or take a thorough look at the sentence ordered by Judge Waldman.

Until these errors are corrected, can you please assist me by sending a copy of the 3621(b) order to me, and to Joseph Chicamento, Records Specialist here a SCI Waymart.

I have enclosed a copy of the warrant to commit and detain for which the June 6th

June order was concurrent to. Took forward to your response soon.

Signed
Mr. Derrick Williams
